Recent Rains Big Help

The recent rains were very acceptable to the community. It is hoped that the weather man will continue to keep the district well supplied with moisture. According to statistics it takes about 12 inches of rainfall to produce an average crop, eight inches of which we must receive from April to the end of July, and four inches during the latter part of the season. So far this season we have to our credit about 41 inches. We can at least hope for the balance to give a much needed average crop.

Local Girl Wins Honors At Vancouver

Miss Freda M. Bastin of Champion was among the ten Prize Winning Graduates in the 1937 class of 96 uniformed and flower-laden nurses who received their diplomas at the Graduation Exercises held in Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver, on Friday, May 14. She was awarded the special prize for Bedside Nursing, presented by the V. G. H. Alumnae Association an engraved "Coronation" gold wrist-watch. Among those present at the graduation, past or present residents of this district, were: Mrs. J. H. Bastin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hoskins and Helen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gillespie, and Mr. and Mrs. F. Kirk Owen.

Seeding Nearly Complete

Seeding is completed with approximately 10 per cent more acreage seeded this year than last, making 54,000 acres in seed. The bulk of this acreage is wheat, with around 200 in oats. There is no barley or rye sown this year, due mostly to lack of seed and fear of grasshoppers. Outcrops are reported from the southwest. Rain fell on Friday and Saturday, registering 36.

Ever since the automobile has become a recognized means of transportation, the motorist has been taking it on the chin. One does not have to point to Alberta as the horrible example but it happens to be the province on which the facts at the moment are available.

In its financial year that ended with March it drew a net revenue of $2,828.76 from the fuel oil tax. Its motor vehicle branch collected $1,424,387 from license fees on motor cars and trucks. On top of this it collected $121,789 for drivers' licenses. This makes the sizable total of $3,784,000.

The $3,784,000 collected from Alberta are paying a tidy tax for the privilege of travelling on Alberta roads. It is a tax that would be heavy if the roads were good, but as the Edmonton Bulletin points out, it is of all reason considering their actual condition.

"If it is a sound principle," it says, "that every service should pay for itself, the motorist is not being given a square deal or anything approaching it. The money that is taken from him as a road tax does not go into roads. Against the $3,784,000 collected from him, slightly more than $600,000 was spent during the same year in roads."

Paying $3 and getting $1 in return is too heavy odds against any class of the community. Art. 18.

Believe It Or Not

The showing of Shirley Temple in "Poor Little Rich Girl" at the local theatre on Saturday drew large crowds to a matinee and evening performance. It is rather a unique feature but everytime Shirley Temple has played in Champion, at the local theatre, for the past few years, her performance has been accompanied by a rain storm and this again proved to be the case on Saturday. The local theatre manager has been urged to bring the child star to Champion as much as possible not only due to her popularity but her seeming ability to bring rain.

Softball

The Carmangay school softball team played the Champion school team here Monday evening. It looked like a walk-away for the Carmangay team as the score was 8-0 at the end of the sixth. In the seventh the Champion boys didn't like the idea of a white wash, and came back hitting hard and scored two runs. It was a very enthusiastic game with plenty of pop on both teams, Carmangay holding an edge on the play up to the final innings.

The Carmangay girls defeated the Champion girls here Monday, winning by a score of 6-5. The girls put up a real battle for the honors. Both teams playing nice ball.

Lambing General In Champion Area

Lambing in flocks in this district has been general during the past two weeks. Alex McDougall, prominent sheep man, reports that nearly all his lambs were twins but his loss this year was severe, being around 50 per cent. He could not account for the loss as the lamb livings are good and strong. His flock came through the winter in very good condition despite the feed shortage, and the wool clip promises to be very favorable. Brown McDonald, another prominent sheepman, reports that his lambing was extremely successful, being around 125 per cent twins and singles. He had very little loss and the sheep are in a splendid condition with favorable prospects for a good wool clip. Mr. McDonald had been experimenting with crested wheat grass as a pasture for the sheep and is finding it highly successful. He believes that this grass will be the coming pasture for sheep.

Preservation Of Democracy

In these days of international strife and internal controversy, with protagonists of Fascism and Communism in the saddle in some countries and advocates of these and other less striking to get the upper hand in other realms, the people have every reason to be thankful that they are citizens of a country where democracy reigns—a country in which the people themselves have the right to say what they want and in which the precious privileges of free speech and a free press still prevail.

Fears are frequently expressed, however, that democratic countries are in danger of being overwhelmed by the fighting forces of dictatorial countries and that democracy is in peril of extinction. No doubt, there have been some grounds for such fears, but to-day the greatest danger to self-government comes from within rather than without.

It can be taken for granted that the great bulk of the people of this country are not prepared to surrender their liberties to any form of dictatorship, whether gross imperialism, the rights of free speech and freedom of action are cherished and there are few who would relinquish them in favor of benefits, imaginary or real, which would result from abandonment of the self-governing principle.

But if these rights and privileges are to be conserved, it is essential that the standard of education of the people be high and that they be of strong moral fibre, for in a democracy it is a sine qua non that the leaders of government must possess these attributes in high degree and it is also a fact that in these respects the leaders cannot be far in advance of the electorate who give them their authority or they will not be in office very long. So that in the final analysis the type of government that the people of a democracy get depends upon themselves and is no higher than they themselves deserve. Hence, the importance of an enlightened, intelligent and unselfish electorate if democracy is to be preserved in an age of conflict between principles and desires.

This thought is very ably expressed by James Truslow Adams in the New York Times Magazine as summarized by the Reader's Digest in the following words:

"Just as a despot may be benevolent or cruel, so a people which governs may be educated, wise, public spirited or the reverse; and, simplifying this idea:

"Both democracy and the vision of a very high standard of material living for all are new. Man is by nature selfish. He looks first to the good of himself, his family and his group or class, rather than to that of all. Pressure groups arise. If such groups are, as they have done, to use the machinery of democratic government more rapidly than they develop the social and moral spirit, that can alone sustain democracy, it is far from unlikely that they may destroy the finances of the State, pull down the entire structure, and in the resulting chaos and distress be willing to give up the dangerous and difficult adventure of self-government to any man who will promise a false security.

"There is also the race, which may be, based on education and the increasingly complex demands on government. Few, if any, are the citizens, with their own affairs to look after, who can hold really competent opinions on such diverse topics as, say, money, price regulation, labor, agriculture, foreign affairs. In so far as a pure democracy tends to make rubber stamps of its representatives and to play on their fears for favors demanded, it will tend to make costly and perhaps fatal mistakes."

After expounding the theory that democratic government is more inefficient than a dictatorship, Mr. Adams goes on to say: "On the other hand, the conditions material and spiritual of the peoples to-day under a Mussolini, a Hitler or a Stalin does not indicate that the wisdom of one promises better conditions for all than the folly of the many. In what totalitarian State," he asks, "are the all-round conditions for a contented, wholesome, free and full life better than they are in the Scandinavian countries, the British Empire and the United States?"

"There are, however, these and other invidious mental and moral problems for democracies as for individuals. A man who does not bother to educate himself, who wants only money regardless of the consequences to others, who declines to work if he can be supported by somebody else, who thinks he has a right to all he wants, who thinks only of claims and not of duties, and who is not likely to be a success. Neither is a democracy made up of such."

Food Prices Climbing

Bureau Of Statistics Reports Increase In Living Costs

The cost of living is climbing. The general index of the cost of living for Canada, compiled by the Dominion bureau of statistics, was $23 in April as compared with $20 in March.

The retail price index of foods rose from 75.7 in March to 76.3 in April. Considerable gains were reported for a wide range of foods, including butter, lard, flour, bread, sugar, tea, codfish and several meats, although moderate decreases occurred for eggs, corn, potatoes, marmalade, jam and coffee. There were no changes of any importance recorded for other budgetary groups.

"No. Rub out the O, and let the K stand."

The clerk began to look haggard.

"Will you please give me your initials again?"

"I said K."

"Pardon, you said O. K."

"I said 'Oh'."

"Just now you said K."

"Allow me to finish. I said 'Oh' because I didn't understand what you were asking me. I didn't mean it was my initial. My name is Kirby Japan."

Farm Machinery Business

Staging A Comeback In Western Canada After Many Years

After seven lean years, the farm implement business is picking up in Western Canada.

The prairie farmer is once again in the market, and makers of the overdue replacement of farm machinery, implement company officials at Winnipeg said.

One major company reported 50 per cent. increase in sales in the first four months of this year compared with the same period last year. Other companies also reported considerable increases.

Prevailing high prices for wheat and optimistic crop conditions in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta have led to the buying wave, it was stated.

The implement business has been in a slump since 1929 and for the past seven years farmers' demand for farm machinery in Western Canada has dwindled in face of poor grain prices, drought and general economic instability.

Radio fans who listened to the broadcast of the coronation of King George and Queen Elizabeth May 12, enjoyed a much better musical program than the actual participants did at the time of King George V's coronation in 1911. The old Abbey organ, built 200 years, completely collapsed after last year.

Sufferer Follows Good Advice — and Takes Kruschen

The writer of the following letter had a bad attack of rheumatism, and was advised to take Kruschen. He did so, and describes his experience in the following words:

"About two years ago I developed a severe attack of rheumatism in my left shoulder blade. I tried all sorts of remedies, but with no results, until one day my brother-in-law, on hearing of my suffering, exclaimed, 'There is only one thing for rheumatism! That—Kruschen Salts!' I decided to purchase a bottle, and for the first week took a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water each morning. The pain gradually disappeared and has now gone entirely. I am still taking one half morning dose, as I feel convinced that it is helping to keep me fit"—J.G.B.

Rheumatic conditions are frequently the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients of these Salts assist Nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

Zinc Added To Insulin

Tends To Slow Down Its Action

Sir Frederick Banting of the University of Toronto, discoverer of insulin as a remedy for diabetes, told scientists at Pittsburgh, for dedication of Mellon Institute's new building, that zinc is being added to insulin, to slow down its action.

Sir Frederick explained pure insulin is too quickly absorbed by the body, necessitating, in some cases, several doses daily.

The zinc treatment, he said, slows the action, but added: "It is too early to speak of the clinical value of this form of insulin."

Asked if he could vision a world free of disease, Sir Frederick replied: "Free of infectious diseases, yes. But as we conquer them new diseases of an organic nature come to light. Heart trouble and diabetes and many others brought on by our complex civilization."

Up at Bradford and Cooktown, where he had worked three years for the Stoddards, the family had been worshipping Episcopalianism, who thought themselves some snuff. You understand? He had pester and fat-wore, and none but the help ate in the kitchen. Such landed gentry kept a hired man in his place. And the other young people in the district were also snuffily-minded, and indulged in dancing and card playing, which were abominations to the godly discipline of the Methodist Connection. The result was that young Marshall withdrew himself from such temptations of the flesh, and had spent his evenings reading the Bible and reflecting on his place in the world. Critical Notes by Adam Clarke, I.L.D., F.S.A., etc.

So prospects did not look any too bright for finding a wife for William. But finally so happy a thought occurred to Mrs. Marshall that her fingers hesitated for a moment in their ceaseless knitting.

"Willie," said his mother, as she ran a snidling needle through her hair, "you might do worse than go down to Toronto and ask for John Trueman's Nancy."

Mrs. Marshall's maiden name was Cohan; and she was a distant connection of Sarah Trueman. The son felt a religious impediment to marrying a tavern keeper's daughter, and into the Established Church.

"Aye," advised his father, sagely. "Aye, my son, go to the right kind of a wife, go to a house that has a good mother."

So having tidied himself up to look respectable, William drove off down Yonge Street with his father's team, and arrived on Saturday morning at the Tavern of the great, rough lump of a man warmly welcomed by Mrs. Trueman, who thanked his mother kindly for the nice firm of the young man. Marshall wore a suit of dark-colored homespun, heavy cowhide boots and a shabby, broad-brimmed, grey felt hat, which he had borrowed for the occasion.

Of course, he would be stopping for dinner. Yes, and he might be lodging over Sunday. Himself and the young man adjourned to the tap room, and fell into the heavy lullaby conversation of two males, ready for marriage, who are anxious to seem friendly to one another, but are lacking their brains to talk about something in common.

"It's hoarse you are, Willie," Mr. Trueman remarked, after the breather had been talked out. "I'm thinking you've got what is called a Methodist cold." And he winked his far-off eye.

"Well, sir," said William, in his slow, deliberate way, "I am an adherent of the Wesleyan Connection, but I never heard tell of that sort of a cold."

"Ha! Ha!" explained himself, with his chuckle, "that's the hoarseness of the middle-lag itinerants get by their roaring and noisy preaching."

In John Trueman's opinion, the Methodist was a better man than the black-mouthed Presbyterians.

How To Overcome Piles And Rectal Soreness

It is a well known fact that piles are not a disease, but a condition of the rectum. They are caused by the accumulation of fecal matter in the rectum, and the resulting inflammation of the rectal tissue. The only way to cure piles is to remove the fecal matter from the rectum, and to keep the rectum clean and healthy.

Dr. J. C. Williams, a well known physician, has discovered a new and effective method of treating piles. This method is based on the principle of removing the fecal matter from the rectum, and of keeping the rectum clean and healthy. Dr. Williams' method is the only one that has been found to be effective in the treatment of piles.

boiled upstairs in a bound, and slammed the bedroom door. Himself and the wife hurried up after her to see what the matter was. The girl was sprawled on the bed with her face buried in a pillow. She was sobbing in noisy spasms, and carrying on most distressfully.

"Oh! Mama!" she sobbed, "you'll not let them marry me off to a poor, clumsy farmer, will you?"

"And send me to live in a hut in the back of the woods?"

"And no furniture," she wailed, "and only one room in the shanty!"

"But, Nancy dear," urged her distressed mother, "think of all the bedding and linen you have tramped that you can take with you... yes, and the tableware... the drawn linen tablecloths... and..."

"And no bed to put them on!" wailed Nancy, "and no table for the tablecloths!"

"Hur-umph! Hur-umph!" expostulated herself, tossing his head, "I'll have to know young woman, that John Trueman will supply his bedding on his marriage, with suitable household furniture complete!"

And, amidst the good man stormed in high indignation.

Mrs. Trueman stayed to calm her daughter, who was sobbing and grunting into a pillow in her way. There was a speedily full in the tempo, followed by a complete silence.

"The time has come when you must get rid of sorrow with a saucy girl in her eyes."

"Do you think, Mother dear,"—and Nancy's voice was always clear and low—"I could get that husband of yours to throw in a couple of cows?"

Kind of course, Nancy Trueman was truly and sincerely in love. As a woman, you know, does not want to fall in love. By one of the inexplicable laws of her being, a woman if always in love, and as full of love as a nut is full of oil, the man must find a loveable object for his own love before his affections are aroused; but a woman's love can flourish and expand in a dreamland all her own. It is as much a matter of chance that her affections settle upon a particular man as that she will have a cluster on a particular limb of a tree. It is not the limb that makes the swarm, nor the man that makes a woman love.

So John Trueman felt young Marshall was a veritable godsend; and that it was his fatherly duty to nudge his daughter Nancy's will to a life of thinking. And he was a steadfast-minded man, who stood firm and set in his purpose. The girl kept her chamber all Saturday afternoon and evening. Himself, strict orders that if she should there it be to her own satisfaction.

He kept a silent count, and moved quietly about the house, as subdued and repressed as any dutiful wife. William Marshall came at supper time to find that Miss Nancy had a bad headache; and quite casually by himself, that such a complaint was a rare recurrence in the Trueman family.

On Sunday morning the Trueman sat down with considerable dignity to the family breakfast table. Miss Nancy was there, looking a trifle pale, but her appetite was in good condition.

Some More Figures

An enterprising British washing machine company has figured out that on "wash day" every housewife lifts 6,400 pounds and her arm travels six and one-half miles while ironing the weekly wash. In ironing seven shirts alone she lifts a 31,200 pound load, or a total of 100 pounds.

A Giant Handing

A hollyhock standing 11 feet high was grown on the farm of J. N. Henderson in the Nut Mountain district, according to an item in a Kelowna, B.C., weekly newspaper. Mr. Henderson has threshed 110 bushels of oats to the acre, the report said, indicating fertile soil of that area.

Salaries Of The Dictators In Europe

Are Asquith, Lloyd George, and the other four ministerial posts he holds, Mussolini asks no reward, but as Minister of the Interior he controls a special fund out of which his chauffeurs, secretaries, bodyguards are paid.

If Duce has his plump fingers in Italy, Mussolini owns a big farm, is one of the world's most highly paid writers, sells his writings and speeches all over Italy in de luxe editions.

The widely circulating, well stocked, thorough advertisement columns are high. Popolo d'Italia is sole property of Mussolini. It was started by his dead brother Arnaldo.

Money-miser Mussolini never carries any money. When he is any good money distributing to be done, a secretary has to do the necessary. A non-smoker, non-drinker and vegetarian, the Duce spends little on himself, satisfies only his craze for food.

Friend Adolf Hitler refuses to accept any annual salary (14,080), but only in late Prussia's allowance for "entertainment."

Kept very quiet is the Fuhrer's private income. It comes from a partnership in the Nazi Party's publishing business.

"His book," "Mein Kampf," which sold a million and a half copies in Germany, continues to sell since the State presents each newly married couple with a copy.

And Austria's Karl Schuschnigg has only his official salary, $1,140, has no allowance for expenses or entertainment.

Whereas the necessary Austrian Treasury stamps out, has never allowed to balk yet.

Germany's Hitler, who declares to the largest territory of all, has the smallest salary, a nominal 600.

Clothes, food, motor cars, doctors, tourist country homes are provided by the state.

Would-be dictator General Francisco Franco gets a mere 4172 a year as general of division, supplemented by grants that go with his numerous decorations.

Spain's King Alfonso XIII. is highly efficient successor to his friend Marshal Pilsudski, he gets paid for being Marshal of Poland, has no other office, no other income. From Cavalcade.

Russia's New Canal

Puts Moscow In Water Communication With Three Seas

Just as digging of the Panama Canal divided North from South America, the Russians now are digging the Moscow-Volga Canal, which will be inaugurated by Joseph V. Stalin, Premier of Russia, and others, that canal will connect Russia on a great inland of inland waterways, and Moscow in water communication with three seas: the Caspian, White and Baltic.

Travelers now can go from the Arctic Ocean to Persia without leaving their steamships. Eventually they can also reach the Black Sea and the Mediterranean over this inland waterway net, which is to make Moscow a "port" of five seas.

The Moscow-Volga Canal, 128 kilometres in length, brings the headwaters of the mighty Volga flowing past the Kremlin through a series of locks, sluices and an inland lake called the "Moscow Sea," lying just to the north of the capital. The Soviets are immensely proud of its completion—a project comparable in size with the digging of the Suez and Panama Canals—in only four and a half years. This was possible through the use of prison and labor troops.

These laborers were under direction of the OGPU.

Dust Storms On Mars

Astronomers are not sure, but they think Mars is being troubled with dust storms this spring, the same as western Canada and the "dust bowl" of the United States. Griffith observatory officials, at Los Angeles, have been studying through their telescopes what appears to be one big disturbance and several smaller ones. Possibly "dustier" worse than those in North America.

Russian Watch Industry

Soviets Believe Many People Would Buy Cheap Time

Russia believes that all of Asia and a good deal of Europe will buy watches if a cheap type of watch can be brought within their reach. The first stage in the Soviet watch industry of the future is to be a factory at Samara on the Volga, where 10,000 workers are expected to be employed. To try their hands at training the Russians, thirty Soviet watchmakers and their families have just reached Samara from the Lode and La Chaux de Fonds, the main watchmaking centres in the nation of Neuchâtel.

In these mountain towns, tucked away in one of the Jura valleys, watchmaking is a family trade handed down from generation to generation by the watchmakers' schools. Both Le Locle and La Chaux de Fonds have suffered severely from the slump and even the change-over of some of the factories to the manufacture of wireless sets has failed to absorb the unemployed. Now that the skilled men have left to start the Russian watch industry, others are preparing to follow. New York Times.

The Cinque Ports

Lord Willington, Former Governor-General of Canada, is Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports.

Lord Willington, former governor-general of Canada and viceroy of India, was present at the coronation both by reason of his rank and as being lord warden of the Cinque Ports, an office he had held since 1911.

The Cinque (Five) Ports were originally Dover, Sandwich, Hastings, Romney and Hythe, and their origin probably goes back to Roman times. William the Conqueror appointed a warden to have jurisdiction over military and naval—over the whole of this area, which was charged with the duty of providing shipping for the fleet. Nowadays the lord warden still exercises a certain maritime jurisdiction, and has a residence in Walmer Castle and the office is considered one of considerable dignity.

The late Marquis of Reading held it prior to Lord Willington.

Only One In Canada

Negress Distributed Mail In District Near Harrow, Ontario

Probably the only Negress mail carrier in Canada, Mrs. Marie L. Negress, Harrow, Ontario, has three kings in distributing His Majesty's mails, has retired after 24 years of service. She served George V., Edward VIII. and George VI. She began by helping her husband, now dead, and believes she would still be on the job but for the fact that her husband's name was not on the Harrow route list, so her successor submitted a lower tender, which was accepted.

Little Helps For This Week

Get a watch O' Lord before my death; keep the door of my lips Psalm 141:3.

What, never speak one evil word, Or rash, or idle, or unkind? O how, shall I meet, gracious Lord, this mark of true perfection?

When we remember our temptations, and how ready to destroy peace, or irritation, and how hard a thing it is from day to day to meet our fellow-men, our neighbors, or even those of our own household without showing signs of impatience, with only kindly feeling, finding expression and ungentleness, inevitably at least, kept imprisoned, then we shall be ready to acknowledge that the man who has attained mastery of himself under all circumstances is fashioned upon the style of the Perfect Man.

Seal Skins Were Seized

Customs Officers At Victoria Claimed They Bore Bullet Holes

Canadian customs officials at Victoria held 46 seal pelts bearing what they declared were bullet holes.

Indians are permitted to kill the animals under the 1903 treaty between Great Britain, United States and Japan.

The skins were confiscated when they arrived on board the steamer Princess Maquima. They were consigned to a Vancouver firm from Victoria, a southern British Columbia port. Value of the pelts was not disclosed.

J. A. McWhorter, chief inspector of fisheries at Vancouver, recently received orders from Ottawa to keep a close watch for seal killing in contravention of the sealing treaty.

The Profits

A lawyer was assisting two men in drawing up a contract of partnership. The lawyer went through the documents before the final signing, and rudely said: "But there is no mention of the partnership; these must go in."

"Quite right," said the partners, speaking at once. "It is the profits; are to be divided equally in both cases."

Special Meeting of

The May meeting of the Champion Women's Institute reversed the usual order of proceedings by having the programme before the business meeting. The members met at the tea-house at 2:30 and proceeded to Miss McCullough's room in the public school where her pupils presented the culmination of their enterprise on "Indiana". Each guest received a hand-printed programme, prepared by one of the pupils. Miss McCullough explained something of the educational value of enterprise education, and the members and guests in costume entertained their audience with recitations, stories, plays and songs. At the conclusion of the programme an opportunity was given the parents and friends to examine the sand-table, the posters, booklets, and other work of the pupils. Mrs. Beaulieu expressed to Miss McCullough the gratitude of the Institute members for this opportunity to become a little better acquainted with a new method in education.
